Yanks 12 Mi. Inside Reich

By WILLIAM S. WHITE

WITH U. S. FIRST ARMY INVADING GERMANY, Sept. 16 (AP)—The whole Siegfried Line is in direct peril today from several break-throughs made by American infantry south of Aachen.

These penetrations have placed our forward troops beyond the lines of the last fixed fortifications in that area. Tanks at the same time smashed forward east of Aachen.

The deepest penetration of Germany is about 12 miles.

American patrols have been going into Aachen itself, although the town is not yet in First Army control.

The rest of Aachen the Americans broke the second line of the Siegfried fortifications, but in this area some fixed obstacles remain to be reduced.

In the Dutch area north of Aachen other powerful American forces not yet engaged on German soil are moving steadily up to the enemy frontier.

The Nazis are trying frequent counterattacks, although usually in no greater force than a battalion at a time.

The enemy is throwing in overaged men, convalescents, and even mental defectives.

Yanks Smash 10-Mile Gap Through West Wall

By JAMES M. LONG

LONDON, Sept. 16 (AP)—U. S. troops thrust through a 10-mile-wide breach in the main Siegfried line east of Aachen today in one of four developing invasions of Germany, and Berlin indicated a breakthrough approaching the Rhine.

Besides their power drive beyond encircled Aachen, a Siegfried fortress, American First Army units deepened two other wedges into the fortification system, and made a fourth crossing of the Reich's frontier.

The Aachen front was widened to 15 miles with capture of Lamersdorf.

German broadcasts reported street fighting in Aachen and indicated the U. S. Third Army sweep east of Nancy was approaching the Rhine. "A fluctuating battle" is on in the eastern Vosges mountains which come down to the Rhine, it declared.

The armored drive of the Third was underway again 16 to 15 miles beyond Nancy.

The fourth crossing of the German frontier came 63 miles below Aachen midway between thrusts already denting Nazi fortifications near Trier and Prum.

The drive beyond Aachen apparently contained the gravest threat to the Germans.

Wallendorf, one mile inside Germany, was captured. A front dispatch said it was reported at Third Army headquarters that every building in Wallendorf was burned yesterday because of persistent sniping and that a nearby village was subjected to a similar scorching for the same reason.

The Germans said the Americans were working along the Eifel mountains, overlooking the Moselle as it runs northeast toward the Rhine at Coblenz.

American Third Army troops fighting in eastern France virtually wiped out the German 112th Panzer Brigade and the 16th Infantry Division in fighting preceding the capture of Epinal below Nancy.

The Seventh Army has taken 72,000 prisoners and killed or captured eight German generals, Supreme Headquarters said. Frenchmen of the Seventh took 19,500 of the prisoners.

The Third Army to date has captured 86,000 men, wounded 73,000 and killed 25,800.

Near the Channel coast Polish forces of the Canadian First Army sent patrols across the Dutch border southwest of Hulst. Canadian infantry won a strong new bridgehead over the western branch of the Leopold canal near Eeklod in Belgium, narrowing the German hold on the south side of the Scheldt estuary, which prevents Allied access to Antwerp from the sea.

BULLETINS

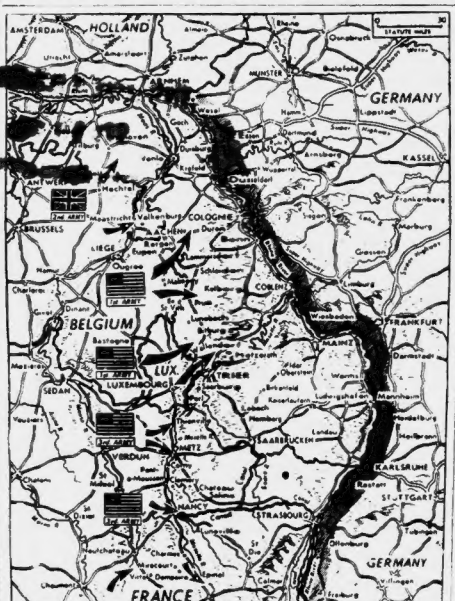
WITH AMERICANS BEFORE THIONVILLE, Sept. 16 (AP)—The U. S. Third Army captured a section of the Maginot line on the west side of the Moselle today and turned the German-installed 105-mm. guns on the enemy across the river.

THIRD ARMY HEADQUARTERS, Sept. 16 (AP)—American armor which crossed the Moselle has wheeled north and cut in behind the German-held fortress of Metz in a maneuver threatening to outflank the stubbornly resisting bastion, it was announced today.

NEW YORK, Sept. 16—Radio Atlantik, clandestine German language station whose location never has been disclosed, said today Allied forces captured Eschweiler, seven miles northeast of Aachen, and were only 21 miles from Cologne.

FEB. 1 HOLIDAY ASKED

WASHINGTON, Sept. 16 (AP)—"National Freedom Day" would be celebrated Feb. 1 of each year under a resolution introduced by four Republican Senators. The day would commemorate the signing by President Abraham Lincoln of Congressional resolution proposing the adoption of the 13th Amendment to the Constitution.



WESTERN FRONT—Large arrows indicate American drives across the German border in the sector between encircled Aachen and Trier. Four American columns are in Germany today, the fourth invasion having been made at Wallendorf. Small arrows indicate other Allied drives.

Yanks Take Brest, Paris Radio Says

LONDON, Sept. 16 (AP)—The Paris Radio said tonight that Brest, the French naval base in Brittany, had been captured with an estimated 12,000 Germans taken prisoner.

Earlier the Berlin radio said Brest was in flames, but that fighting was continuing, with American troops within a mile of naval headquarters.

against the attacking Americans the town," the Nazi broadcast said, "and amid the flames the battle rages with undiminished fury.

"Com. Kaehler brought coastal long-range guns into the southern part of the town, where they now serve as close-range artillery.

Marines in Tough Fight For Airstrip on Peleliu

By the Associated Press

Marines battled against stiff resistance today toward the airstrip on Peleliu island in the Palaus while another Yank force on Morotai island readied easily-captured Pitoc airfield for use in the coming battle for the Philippines.

Established on a two-mile long Peleliu beachhead, Marines of the Guadalcanal-famed First Division pushed ahead against furious opposition from an estimated 8000 Japs.

Losses were light in the initial landings, Adm. Nimitz announced last night, and "several enemy counter-attacks, employing tanks, were thrown back by our ground forces" with strong air and naval support.

Capture of the airstrip would give Allied forces driving toward the Philippines a bomber base 515 miles east of Davao, southern Philippines, providing a field from which fighters and bombers could neutralize other Jap holdings in the Palaus, including the only other usable airfield on Angaur.

The Japs admitted today the landing force had effected a beachhead after being "repulsed" several times. Broadcasts by the Japs yesterday claimed the forces had been "completely repulsed" with heavy losses.

Engineers that landed with Gen. MacArthur's forces on Morotai island in the Halmaheras 375 miles south of Davao, were putting the grass and tree-covered Pitoc airstrip into condition for use in aerial blows against Mindanao, 300 miles northwest.

Associated Press Correspondent Spencer Davis reported from Morotai that Sixth Army troops occupied the abandoned field an hour after the first wave hit the beachhead against only scattered sniper fire.

The airstrip, 5300 feet long, is covered with kunai three feet high and innumerable papaya trees obstruct the runway.

Both landings were made under the cover of Allied fleet units which heavily bombarded the shoreline and enemy installations before the troops were put ashore.

Adm. Nimitz's communique also reported Army Liberator attacks on Iwo Jima in the Volcano islands, 750 miles south of Tokyo, and Navy and Army plane raids on the Kuriles, north of Japan.

MacArthur's fliers raided installations and airdromes on Ceram, Dutch New Guinea, New Ireland, New Britain and Bougainville.

Warsaw Nazis In Tank Attack

By EDDY GILMORE

MOSCOW, Sept. 16 (AP)—Red Army patrols have crossed the Vistula from captured Praga and scouted German positions at Warsaw, while Russian and Polish troops hurled back the first big Nazi armored attack upon their positions in the east bank suburb, field dispatches said today.

Eleven localities north of Praga were declared seized by Russian and Polish units, increasing the pressure upon Warsaw.

First photographs flown back from Praga to Moscow showed that many of Warsaw's buildings were shattered and, where flames and smoke were not billowing, buildings looked gutted and ruined.

Reconnaissance disclosed that Red Army artillery and air power had already driven Nazi troops from a 100-yard strip between the west bank of the Vistula and the first line of buildings in Warsaw.

It was believed to be only a matter of days before German forces from Finland to Yugoslavia will bear the brunt of drives by veteran Russians armies refreshed and eager to march into the Reich.

Moscow reports said the Soviets were particularly eager to resume their Baltic campaign.

News of Other War Fronts on Page 4

(A Berlin broadcast said the Russians in a new offensive crossed the Nyemanek river 37 miles below Riga. There was no confirmation from Moscow of the new drive, aimed at crushing two German armies of the north.

(The German report said the Russians employed 40 divisions, upwards of 400,000 men, on a curving 150-mile front extending from Bauska, south of Riga, into Estonia on both sides of Valga.)

Czech Forces Make Contact With Soviets

LONDON, Sept. 16 (AP)—Czechoslovak forces fighting in Eastern Slovakia were reported officially today to have established contact with advanced elements of the Red army.

A communique from the commander of the Czechoslovak forces said Russian units had crossed the Slovak border and that for the first time Czech planes had participated in the battle against the German air forces in Slovakia's skies.

New Raids Blast, Fire Berlin, Kiel

LONDON, Sept. 16 (AP)—More than 800 RAF and Canadian heavy bombers unloaded tons of explosives and incendiary bombs on Kiel, Berlin and Lubec in Germany last night, the greater part of them going to the naval base of Kiel, setting fires visible for 100 miles. Kiel was set ablaze earlier in the week by the U. S. Eighth Air Force.

New fires also sprang up in Berlin, hit for the fifth night in a row.

Improving weather today gave promise of a resumption of grand scale Allied air attacks. The German radio interrupted morning programs and reported that fighter formations were penetrating to Central Germany.

A total of 11 British and Canadian planes were lost.

U. S. Ninth Air Force Thunderbolts flew 363 sorties in spite of rainy weather yesterday and destroyed 441 trucks and 10 armored vehicles and damaged or destroyed 125 railway cars, 17 locomotives and 15 artillery pieces between Strasbourg and Cologne.

Thunderbolts also sank a barge and blew up a fuel dump and made attacks in the Third Army's battle area in the Nancy-Metz region.

Lake Praises Ground Crews

By AUSTEN LAKE

ON THE ROAD TO BERLIN (delayed)—A yellow flare arched over the airfield, sputtered brilliantly and snuffed out in the grass. A growly voice, charged with authority, came through the amplifier horns atop the control tower. "Clear the landing strip," it said repeatedly. "Clear the landing strip for emergency landing."

This was ominous but not uncommon. A wounded plane was limping home. Somewhere out yonder a pilot was racing with death. "Clear the airfield," said the voice, and Thunderbolts waiting for the takeoff wheeled away with disgusted snorts to the shelter of revetments. For by sad experience, the fliers knew that a plane out of control is a berserk thing that smashes everything in its path.

Ground crews deserted their chores and joined the rush of off-duty pilots to view the spectacle from the best vantage points. The squadron meat wagon (ambulance) roared to the end of the apron, men with Red Cross brassards on their arms, holding medical kits. A fire truck followed in its dusty wake, with a soldier donning an asbestos suit. The stage was set for tragedy!

REFUSED TO JUMP

Now from the far horizon a gnat-like speck grew gradually larger until the double tail-booms of a P-38 were visible. The plane's left propeller was still, its landing wheels half down, its wing flaps shut. Clearly German flak had shot out one engine and ruined its hydraulic system.

"That guy's in the soup," said someone. For none of this group knew the P-38 pilot, and thus could afford to be impersonal.

For five tortured moments the pilot corkscrewed in wide orbits over the field, the cough of his remaining motor growing more bronchial. The man understood the gambling odds! There were skeletons of other planes in the salvage dumps, men who had also crash-landed. Some died, some didn't!

"Why'n-ell doesn't he jump?" asked somebody. But the pilot fish-hooked around for his come-in. He had guts!

"Here he comes," shouted the watching gallery, with the impersonal tone of a baseball crowd hailing a player who is stealing home. Then, as the plane seemed to overshoot the apron, the watchers moaned. "O. Nooo! O. Noooo!" as is the way with sideline coachers the world over.

HE MAKES IT

"Dead pigeon," commented a young captain, as a doctor might diagnose a cancer, and then as the pilot levelled neatly above

Cape, New Bedford Hit by Food Crisis

Thousands of families in New Bedford and the Cape today faced a food crisis as lack of electric refrigeration and the impossibility of delivering ice over tree cluttered roads left a spoilage problem in the wake of the hurricane. Storm toll inventories continued to rise, with Mayor Arthur M. Harriman of New Bedford estimating damage there at $10,000,000, double the estimate of yesterday.

More than 900 members of the State Guard, augmented by hundreds of OCD auxiliary police, patroled littered streets of the city, while thousands of temporarily jobless men and women began repairing damage to their homes.

Mayor Harriman called a special meeting of the city council for Monday night. He will ask for appropriation of a $200,000 hurricane emergency repair fund.

The entire south end of the city was without electric lights or electrical refrigeration. Frantic householders were taking their weekend supplies to the Deep Freeze Co. plant, where facilities were extended to residents.

Telephone communication between the mainland and Marthas Vineyard was restored today and it was learned the Vineyard suffered damage of $3,000,000, with 200 boats driven high ashore, many badly broken.

An average of nearly one of every three houses in New Bedford was damaged in some degree. Mills are closed for lack of power. Shore front cottages by the score were splintered, or hurled into the sea, or blown many feet from their foundations.

No estimate of the number of homeless was available but the New Bedford Hotel opened its lobby to some family groups last night. The Red Cross, Volunteers of America and the police housed others.

It was apparent that along the Cape from Provincetown to Onset and in New Bedford, the homeless totalled many thousands.

Reflecting the seriousness of the plight of Cape residents were reports of Public Safety Committee headquarters in Boston from Civilian Defense personnel.

Aaron Davis, regional CD director for the Cape, reported that thousands evacuated from their homes still were being cared for and fed by CD personnel in schools, armories and other public buildings. Davis and his workers have been going steadily since Thursday on 24-hour duty and report no chance of a let-up for several days.

Estimates of property destruction throughout the State continued to increase as the survey continued, with the possibility the toll may reach the $100,000,000 mark.

Despite is small area, Provincetown alone suffered $500,000 damage. State guardsmen and auxiliary police were patroling there, as in New Bedford.

Housewives throughout the area were desperately trying to solve the problem of keeping food fresh until the electric power is restored. Preservation of milk for babies was a matter of intense concern.

An ice shortage, coupled with the difficulty of making deliveries, made the lack of electric refrigeration all the more keenly felt.

Nor was the problem confined to the Cape and New Badford alone. A number of towns north of Boston were still without electric lighting and refrigeration.

Temporarily quartered in the armory at New Bedford were 40 persons evacuated from the Ft. Rodman area. Barracks at the fort itself were severely damaged.

Salvation Army units were providing food and shelter for those left in need.

Scores of cottages were in dismal heaps of debris, their occupants having found refuge with sympathetic friends.

Busmen Meet Here To Set Strike Date

Union leaders, representing 14 locals of the union of car and bus operators of the Eastern Massachusetts Street Railway Co., met at Hotel Manger today to set a date for the walkout voted, 1262 to 133, by the 1800 union members in a Labor Relations Board election.

Two union leaders, who declined to identify themselves, said at the hotel the meeting was for the sole purpose of setting a strike date in protest against delay by the War Labor Board in approving a bonus agreement between the union and the company.

Previously it had been reported the meeting was being held in hope of averting the strike as the result of a modified bonus plan submitted by the WLB in place of the original bonus agreement.

The modified bonus plan approved by the WLB provides increased earnings retroactive to June 2, 1943, of from one to five cents an hour, based on the traffic load of the company.

Bar Sightseers

Sightseers and "those having no business" were urged today stricken Cape and New Bedford to stay away from the hurricane-district by Atty. Gen. William J. Keville.

"Speaking for the Governor, I request all sightseers and those with no business in the area from New Bedford to Provincetown to keep off the highways and not visit the shore fronts.

"Everything possible is being done with available manpower to restore normal activities. Any needless travel by people having no business will cause interference and possibly suffering to the people of this district."

6 Blasted From Plane, Safe in Alaskan Saga

ELEVENTH ARMY AIR FORCE HEADQUARTERS, Alaska, Sept. 16 (AP)—A dramatic escape from a trackless Alaskan wilderness after they had been blown out of their airplane 20,000 feet in the air was related here today by six crewmen from a Liberator bomber listed as missing since Sept. 3.

The six were taken to the Anchorage Army Hospital yesterday after two of the group had hiked 150 miles for aid through the trackless wilderness to a fishing village.

Search was underway today for two others believed to have parachuted safely in the Mount Iliamna area and for the bodies of four believed killed in the explosion of the big bomber. Names of the missing and dead were withheld.

Lt. Grace and Sgt. Smith hiked for help. The rest elected to remain in the wilderness with Woogen, who spent three days alone on the mountain and was unable to travel.

Leon Ailsworth, Alaskan bush pilot flew a small seaplane into the bush country and brought the whole party to Anchorage.

Grace said he was asleep in the rear compartment of the plane when fire spurted from the number two engine, trailing a flaming torch 500 feet behind.

None had ever used a parachute but all but the pilot put them on. As crew gathered around the escape hatches, the pilot shoved the plane into a dive in an attempt to snuff out the flames and the big ship went into a spin at 20,000 feet altitude and 10,000 feet over Mount Iliamna — whirling the crewmen from the hatches.

Woogen and another engineer, now missing, attempted to turn off the gasoline cocks, but fire drove them from the bomb bay.

About a minute and a half after the flames broke out, the entire plane disintegrated in a terrific explosion. Grace believed the plane had struck a mountain side.

He fell for several seconds before he realized he was falling free and pulled his ripcord. Twice as he fell, plummetting pieces of the plane tore foot-wide holes in his chute.

Smith was blown out of the plane before he had time to fasten the leg straps of his parachute and, to keep the straps from slipping off his shoulders, folded his arms and stuck his thumbs in his mouth. When he landed he had bitten clear to the bone.

Co-Pilot Moss said he believed the pilot was killed by the explosion.

The six landed on the mountainside but were separated by huge crevases. They located each other by shouting and following small streams downward. After three days all were together. They ate mossberries until they were found.

F.D., Churchill Delay Press Talk

QUEBEC, Sept. 16 (AP)—President Roosevelt and Prime Minister Churchill held a plenary session with their military staffs today and with official pictures of the second Quebec conference to be taken afterward—postponed until late afternoon the press conference which closes their meeting.

Churchill has decided to return to London a British official indicated, leaving further talks to another time and place. His movements will go off the record after this afternoon's press conference "until his return home."

A possibility remained Churchill and Roosevelt could cover other subjects in brief informal talks after concluding the Quebec conference agenda, which was devoted largely to winning the European war. Officials had indicated there would be an early resumption of their meetings.

ENGAGED — Engagement of Almo Theresa Lynch to W. O. William F. McPherson today was announced by her father, Bernard J. Lynch of Lindsey st., Dorchester. The bridegroom-to-be is now with the Navy in the South Pacific after having been wounded at Guadalcanal. He is the son of the John McPhersons of Stoddard rd., Hingham.

Robot Attack Seen Airborne

LONDON, Sept. 16 (AP)—German robot bombs, which may have been launched from airplanes, smashed into southern England and the London area shortly before dawn today, underscoring the government's warning that evacuees should not flood back to the capital.

One flying bomb wrecked seven houses. In one of them five children and an adult were killed. Four others in the same area were seriously injured.

Some persons here said the bombs appeared to be the type discharged from aircraft.

The last flying bomb raid on southern England occurred Aug. 24.

Reds Fight Nazis Inside Finland

NEW YORK, Sept. 16 (INS)—The British radio today quoted reports from Helsinki that the Russians already were "fighting their way through Finland" and had encircled two German divisions remaining on Finnish soil despite a Nazi promise to evacuate the country by Sept. 15.

(A special communique from Hitler's headquarters declared today German troops remaining on Finnish soil would protect themselves against "all attackers.")

London said the Finns had pledged themselves to "disarm and intern German troops with the help of Russia."

Chinese Fight to Open India Supply Route

CHUNGKING, Sept. 16 (AP)—Fighting on the Salween front reported today in the Lungling area, from which the Japanese must be eliminated before an overland supply route from India to China can be made a reality.

The Chinese high command said the Japanese captured an important high position a mile south of Lungling yesterday, but that Chinese now were vigorously counterattacking.

8th Army At Rimini

ROME, Sept. 16 (AP)—Eighth Army tanks and infantry have broken across the Marano river on a wide front, with Greek units pushing to the edge of the Rimini airfield, less than three miles from the town of Rimini, Allied headquarters announced today.

The Fifth Army reported only slight gains in its broad advance against the Gothic Line north of Florence.

Resistance has stiffened considerably in the Fifth Army area, and every approach to the Gothic defense zone is bitterly contested and heavily mined, Gen. Alexander's headquarters said.

TURFMAN-FLIER KILLED

LONDON, Sept. 16 (AP)—Lt. Frank Furlong, well-known British turfman and amateur rider who joined the air arm of the Royal Navy at the outset of the war, was killed in a flying accident near Stockbridge Sept. 13, it was announced today.

Ickes, Perkins Top Dewey Black List

By JACK BELL

COEUR D'ALENE, Ida., Sept. 16 (AP)—Gov. Dewey told his press confenre here today Sec. of Interior Ickes and Sec. of Labor Perkins would be "high on the list" of government officials to be ousted if the Republicans win in November.

Gov. Dewey brought his campaign for the presidency to the far reaches of the mountains with an assertion here that for seven years the New Deal had been "pulling rabbits out of the hat, not one of which ever produced anything."

The Republican presidential nominee, introduced by Idaho's Gov. C. A. Bottolfsen, urged a crowd gathered around his train to support his efforts to bring to Washington a new administration which, he said, was confident could direct the country toward greater achievements than it ever had seen before.

Dewey arrived here for conferences with Gov. Bottolfsen and other political leaders. He expected to leave late this afternoon for Spokane, Wash., where a night stop was scheduled.

In his short talk from the rear platform of his train, Dewey urged the election of Bottolfsen to the United States Senate.

Noting the United Mine Workers had adopted a resolution condemning the New Deal Administration and praising Dewey, Tom Reynolds, of the Chicago Sun, asked the nominee:

"Do you welcome the support of John L. Lewis?"

"I didn't know I had it," Dewey shot back.

Bricker Raps F. D. on Labor

PARKERSBURG, W. Va., Sept. 16 (INS)—The New Deal's proudest boast, its labor record was assailed by Gov. Bricker as being responsible for prolonged conflicts between employers and employes.

"The Administration's labor tactics have resulted in interruptions to the production of war materials.

Bricker spoke at a rally opening the Republican drive in West Virginia.

He quoted a prominent labor leader as saying the Administration has "played a mischievous game of politics in the internal organizational life of the unions."

Bricker did not name the labor leader, but added:

"These New Deal policies and administrative practices in the field of labor relations have unnecessarily prolonged conflicts between management and labor.

"They have aggravated minor points of friction until they have become major obstacles to industrial co-operation, and, worst of all, they have impeded production of war materials."

Helen Gahagan Linked to PAC

By DAVID SENTNER
Boston Evening American
Washington Bureau

WASHINGTON, Sept. 16—Linking of the CIO Political Action Committee with Helen Gahagan Douglas in an attempt to defeat a fellow Democrat Sen. McCarran in the Nevada primaries will highlight forthcoming hearings of the House subcommittee on un-American activities probing subversive aspects of the PAC.

The role played by the Hollywood actress at the Democratic National Convention will be recalled in documentary form.

Miss Gahagan, a Democratic candidate for Congress and arduently endorsed by the PAC and left wing groups, sent a telegram to Sen. Pepper (D-Fla) of Florida, another PAC favorite, on June 27 which read:

"If at all possible, please prevail upon Vail Pittman to run against McCarran in Nevada. Everything is in his favor and he is electable."

HELEN GAHAGAN
Telegram Disclosed

The direct connection of the PAC with the attempt to purge McCarran was established by the fact the telegram was charged to the account of the Political Action Committee in Los Angeles and paid for by the PAC, Rep. Martin Dies, (D) of Texas, chairman of the committee on un-American activities, disclosed today through the committee's Washington office.

The telegram was among many communications and records of telephone calls seized on the West Coast by the Dies Committee which is said to establish, among other things, the Communist link with the PAC.

The men accepted their assignment willingly and carried out their duties with dispatch.

Woman, 2 Men Slashed in Cafe

Three persons, including a 22-year-old South End wife and her husband, suffered stab wounds today during a wild battle that brought riot squads racing to a Tremont st., South End, cafe.

The victims are Mrs. Madaline Goodrich of Waltham st., her husband, Arthur, 24, and Robert Burlingame, 38, of Shawmut ave., South End.

According to police, the Goodrich couple and Burlingame were sitting in a booth when two men entered and immediately started a quarrel. A moment later one of the men pulled a knife and slashed all three.

At City Hospital, Burlingame was treated for face cuts, and many stitches were necessary to close a wound that stretched from Goodrich's left ear to eye. Mrs. Goodrich was cut on the left arm but refused treatment.

Police said the identity of the slasher is known and ordered that he be picked up. Both of the injured men were held by police as witnesses.

Rosh Hashana Services Set

Services of prayer in synagogues and temples throughout Greater Boston tomorrow evening will usher in Rosh Hashana, marking the Jewish New Year 5705, first of the High Holy Days and one of the most solemn periods in the Hebrew calendar.

Rosh Hashana will be observed beginning at sundown and continuing through Tuesday. The second of the Jewish holidays will come Sept. 26 and 27, the Day of Atonement and Yom Kippur.

New Year services are scheduled at Temple Israel, Temple Sinai, Temple Ohabei Shalom, Temple Mishkan Tefila and Temple Emanuel.

Co. Founder of Swift Packing Co. Dies

BENTON HARBOR, Mich., Sept. 16 (AP)—Frederick Christopher Holder, 86, who with the late Gustave F. Swift founded Swift & Co. in Barnstable, Mass., in 1875, died of a heart attack at his home here today.

Retired at the time of his death, Holder, born in Clinton, Mass., began his partnership with Swift at the age of 17. When 21, Holder and Swift moved their business to Chicago and started what became one of the world's largest meat packing companies. Initially Holder served as both paymaster and butcher.

Lynn Police Balk At Minus-Tax Pay

The 20 per cent federal tax today had 20 Lynn policemen and Lynn English High School officials at swords' points, with the bluecoats refusing to volunteer for future work at night football games in Manning Bowl unless they got more pay.

The cops, including two sergeants, walked out in a huff at the English-Chelsea game last night when Faculty Mgr. Ralph Farnum offered the sergeants $6.40 and the patrolmen $4.80 for their night's work.

"I'd rather stay home and soak my feet than take that," declared one patrolman in spurning the pay.

Farnum said the amounts represented the balance after 20 per cent tax was deducted from $6 for patrolmen and $8 for sergeants.

The officers insisted they should receive at least $5 after taxes "or we don't volunteer for any more games."

Police Chief Edward D. Callahan expressed sympathy with his men, pointing out that a dance "job" was worth $7 a night. He said officers volunteered for the work after regular hours.

Express Driver Held in Larceny

Discovery of several cartons of household furnishings in the Otis st., Cambridge, lodgings of a Boston express company driver resulted in his arrest today on charges of larceny by receiving stolen goods.

The driver, who gave his name to police as Albert Meads, 29, denied stealing the articles and told police questioners he had found them. Express company representatives were sent to view the goods.

Heiress Found In Gas Coma

NEW YORK, Sept. 16 (INS)—Mrs. Eleanor Townsend, $7,000,000 heiress and socialite wife of an RCAF flight lieutenant, was found unconscious from gas fumes in the apartment of a friend at 6 a. m. today.

Her head was pillowed on a folded bath mat and she was clad in a night dress.

Police said gas was flowing from two jets of a stove in the kitchen of the apartment occupied by Mrs. Pamela C. Colgate, divorced wife of Robert Bangs Colgate, an official of the Colgate-Palmolive-Peet Corp., when a maid discovered Mrs. Townsend.

Revived by a pulmotor crew, the young matron, daughter of Dr. John A. Vietor, was taken to Bellevue Hospital, where her condition was described as "good."

Mrs. Colgate was away for the weekend, at Westhampton, L. I., and the only other occupant of her apartment was her personal maid, Mary Cronin. Mrs. Townsend had been a guest since last Tuesday while waiting for train reservations for a trip to the West Coast.

The maid said Mrs. Townsend went out with a party of friends last night and returned about 2 a. m. with the group.

She heard chatting and laughing in the kitchen, but fell asleep until awakened by the odor of gas. The maid called police.

Mrs. Townsend, listed in 1938 as principal beneficiary of a $7,000,000 estate left by her mother, the late Mrs. Eleanor Woodward Vietor, eloped in 1934 with Edward N. Townsend, Jr.

The social register lists the couple's home address as 26 Richelieu pl., Montreal, where they took up residence after Townsend joined the Canadian air forces.

Robert T. Brady, Post Editor, Dies

Robert T. Brady, 68, well known Boston newspaperman and for many years political editor of the Boston Post, died today at his home in Hartford st., Roxbury, after suffering a heart attack Thursday.

He had been in failing health since the death of his wife, Mrs. Josephine Brady, a few months ago.

Prior to going to work for the Post almost 30 years ago, he had been employed by the old Boston Journal.

Quincy Arrest In Gas Racket

The arrest of a North Quincy man on a charge of possessing counterfeit gasoline coupons was disclosed today as the OPA announced opening of an intensive drive to smash the widespread gasoline black market in New England.

Andrew J. Magri, 40, of Holbrook rd., North Quincy, was arraigned before U. S. Comr. William C. Rogers and held in $5000 for hearing Sept. 29 after he pleaded not guilty.

Asst. U. S. Atty. Joseph J. Gottlieb said Magri, employed by his brother at a Massachusetts ave. filling station, admitted buying 1600 A-11 coupons for $400 from a black market operator. Gottlieb said the seller's arrest was expected soon.

2 Hurt in Mattapan Trolley, Truck crash

Two persons were injured today in the collision of a Boston El trolley and a Boston park department truck at Blue Hills ave. and Stratton st., Mattapan.

Mrs. Florence Porter of Derby st., Somerville, a passenger, complained of a sprained ankle. Barnabas Jennings, 55, of Montvale st., Roslindale, truck driver, was taken to City Hospital with possible dislocations of his left shoulder and ankle.

trees made vehicular traffic impossible, with the result that overtaxed ice company employes could not make deliveries to harrassed housewives.

The water system was in operation through use of steam power at the main pumping station. Store stocks of candles were depleted and kerosene lamps was difficult to find.

Dan's Pavilion, a huge dance place and night club at the southern of the city, was a mass of wreckage.

Along shorefronts lay broken water-logged craft of all descriptions, including some costly yachts.

The industrial waterfront was a mass of ruins, with beams, spars and other wreckage strewn in eerie patterns, but most industrial establishments in the city escaped severe damage.

St Lawrence's Church and Sassaquin Sanatorium were badly hit.

Along the Cape, Falmouth counted 75 cottages destroyed; Harwich set its hurricane toll at $500,000; Osterville lost a number of cottages and two bridges leading to Oyster Harbor.

Nantucket damage was $100,000. Oak Bluffs lost many cottages and the New England Steamship Co. pier was partly demolished.

The same gusts that trounced New Bedford blew 15 cottages into the sea at Fairhaven.

The New Haven railroad was using all facilities to restore full rail travel to the Cape. Two bridge approaches were still out at Monument Beach and Wareham. Passengers from Boston to Hyannis were placed in buses at Wareham, then taken to Buzzards Bay, where they entrained for Hyannis. Bus travel from Hyannis to Provincetown was still out.

The New England Telephone Co. reported that 76,500 telephones went dead but that most were back in operation. Of 27 central telephone exchanges isolated at the height of the storm only about a dozen still were under repair. In the 1938 hurricane a total of 400,000 phones were out of order.

Electric light companies escaped with but a fraction of the damage of six years ago. The Boston Edison Co. reported that only about one-tenth of the number of poles were down compared to 1938 and that repair work was being made speedily. A company spokesman said most of the damage now was "pretty well cleaned up" and named only Newton and parts of Watertown and Winchester as "bad spots."

WPB announced that building materials up to $5000 are available for those wiped out in the storm, but permanent homes and businesses take precedent over summer cottages.

The job of clearing felled trees along main highways was record-breaking. The state department of public works reported that all roads had been opened only 24 hours after the storm sped out to sea, although there still were danger spots along Routes 6 and 28 on the lower Cape.

Bridge damage throughout the state totaled but $100,000, the department reported.

Uncounted yet is the tremendous damage to food, both crops that were ruined and food spoiled because of electric failure and the lack of refrigeration.

Packing companies estimated a huge loss due to spoilage and breakdown in refrigeration.

One sweep of the hurricane leveled 400 cottages along the Dennis shore within a few minutes. Because of the early warnings residents took refuge in armories, police stations and other buildings on high ground.

At Dennis the tide soared 15 feet above the normal highwater mark.

First Christmas Gifts On Way to Buddies

Christmas for men overseas was under way in Boston today after the first consignment for the Christmas Gifts to Buddies Overseas Campaign was mailed.

Here, as in all other postal districts throughout the nation, long lines of mothers, fathers, sweethearts and others stood patiently with bundles in their arms while gifts by the thousands were received by mail clerks for transmission to the men on various fronts.

Many of these mailers were those who had enrolled in the Christmas Gifts for Buddies Overseas Campaign sponsored by the Record-American and Sunday Advertiser.

Many of those who have promised to bring Christmas happiness to some lad have known the tragedy of losing a loved one in this war.

To enroll in the Christmas Gifts for Buddies Overseas Campaign, fill out and mail the coupon accompanying this article. Remember, your package MUST be mailed before Oct. 15.

the strip, teetering his wings for delicate balance and wheaing back the nose of his ship for a belly landing. "By God, the guy knows his stuff. He may make it."

And he did! The plane caught its wing on the ground, spun in dizzying circles, and hid in a cloud of dust. But there was no nose-over and no sudden spurt of flame. The gallery applauded in the polite manner of a country club set after viewing a nifty topshie-pitch to the pin.

"Nice job," said Cpl. William M. Murphy of 25 Telegraph st., South Boston, who is a parachute inspector, and used to sell toilet goods for J. Zeilman at Jordan Marsh, and gets his preferred road from Alice Walsh of Dorchester.

And so it was! Nice job even if it wrecked $100,000 worth of shining machinery beyond hope of salvage. A life had been spared. And by the time we jeeped over, the pilot had tweezed himself from the twisted jumble of steel, chromium plate and instruments, and was squatting on the sod.

"Whew!" he said, shaking the dust from his brain and sucking a cigarette. "I thought I heard the angels." He was a kid who looked as though he ought to be home with his neighborhood gang flying kites instead of these lethal buzzards.

PLANES PERSONIFIED

Ground crews from all over the field swarmed around the metal corpse hunting for redeemable parts. "Thin pickings on that bird," observed a sergeant, who turned out to be George A. Davis of 31 Park dr., Back Bay, an engineer, who'd just lost his own Little Mack by an identical crack-up after 58 missions.

For these men, ground crews and pilots alike, personify their planes and come to regard them as living, breathing organisms, like old friends.

With Davis was Sgt. William F. Spalding of 58 Cleveland st., Arlington, a squadron electrician, who had his own stamp collection's agency on Bromfield st.

And Sgt. Russell L. Langley of 58 School st., Belmont, deputy crew-chief of the P-47 Florida Cracker before German flak got it. E. S. his pilot got home by devious means I may not mention here.

This was a gold-seal day in the annals of this fighter-bomber group which had just returned from a wolf-prowl over the Nazi exit areas with orders to strafe anything that looked German.

One squadron, especially, was in high glee after having caught a herd of Panzer tanks literally with their hatches down in the act of refueling. It was the dream moment of all strafing pilots, the instant when the enemy was helpless as a sitting bird.

This flight of twelve Thunderbolts (the Hun Hunters) had reconnoitered above a woods where the leader had been attracted by "something that looked like a tree growing in the middle of a road (a poorly camouflaged truck)." He "knew damn well there was something phoney about it," so he zoomed down for a closer gander.

And bless his pretty pink soul he said, there were the tanks getting transfusions of the inflammable juice from more than 30 gas trucks. O, boy!

PANZERS PAY PRICE

The planes peeled off and laid their 500-pound belly bombs on the Panzer nest, gloating as the forest became a cauldron of flame that leaped 60 feet in the air.

Tanks and trucks were roasted! Trees shriveled to charred stumps. The arrogant Panzers which had been Hitler's tiger claws in his original theft of France had paid a stiff price for one man's greed.

There was an open-air fried egg bar behind the briefing tent that looked like a Revere hot dog stand.

And there I found Sgt. Robert G. Phelps of 3 Fellsview ave., Medford, crew chief of the P-47 Alberta, which had just come back from its 132nd mission without a single abort, as the term is.

And Cpl. Walter C. Ketchey, RFD, Lee (20 miles from Pittsfield), who is a parachute rigger, and packs the nylon umbrellas, each of which is equivalent to 244 pairs of ladies' stockings.

And Sgt. Melvin T. Lund of 66 School st., Taunton, a bomb-truckman, who wears the word "Nat" with a wreath of roses tattooed on his arm (for wife, Natalie Hammond; m. Dec. 30, '42).

The tendency of visiting journalists at these fighter centers is to give the pilots all the glory.

But don't overlook the men who make the fighter pilots possible—the technicians and mechanics who are busy in the pearly pinks of dawn, men whose only decoration are the callouses on their hands and only citations are a heartfelt "thank you" from the fliers.

STILL ROBUST 190

Men like T-Sgt. Leo B. McKinnon of 39 Oak st., Braintree, ordnance section chief, who had two years of journalism at B. U. under Prof. Max Grossman, and tells mother, Margaret, he's still his robust 190 pounds.

And Sgt. Justin P. Mulvey of 130 Pierce st., Hyde Park, a radioman, who hopes to go back to work for Mr. Samuels at L. C. Smith Typewriter, thanks mother Adele, for the box of Dr. I-Qs, and asks Carolyn Faulstich for her latest photo.

And Sgt. Leighton A. Clapp of 147 Church st., Milton, an armorer, who worked for Ken Doble's Pneumatic Scales (Norfolk Downs).

And Sgt. Abraham H. Brown of 292 Seaver st., Roxbury, who was a Latin Quarter devotee before the 20 per cent Federal tax, and is grateful for sister's (Mrs. Hilda Gilbert) French dictionary. (Ed. Note—The boys are having the old A.E.F.'s trouble with French pronunciation. Place-names like St. Pois, (San Pwah) become Poys and Pew and Pooie).

And Sgt. Donald W. Russell of 259 Summer st., Lynnfield Center, who did graduate work in the B. U. School of Education, and is affianced to Virginia Gauntlet, Col.

And Sgt. Mervin R. Stanley of Edmunds rd., Framingham, asst. crew chief of the Duchess II (Duchess I died with her boots on) and was a stock clerk at Middlesex County Sanitarium for Dr. Sumner Remick. (Note—he's coming back Doc!).

And Pvt. John Lava of 144 Third st., Chelsea, who attaches the bombs to the plane wings and once worked for Harry Gibby at Mechanics Iron Foundry (Roxbury).

These, I say, are the men who make the pilots who fly the planes, that drop the bombs, such as 2 Lt. Winston P. Hambleton of 43 Raymond st., Nashua, who'd just returned from unloading his frightful freight on three German trucks and a half-track, which he left burning prettily. But if they had their druthers in the matter they would be pursuing their old, peaceful pursuits.

Like Maj. Elbridge Teel of 49 College ave., Medford (his dad's address). The major's family is scattered to the four points of the compass: wife, Ethel, in Florida; son, Elbridge, Jr., a student pilot in Georgia; daughter, Cynthia, an M. I. T. tech-specialist. He used to manage a department for White Motors of Boston. And Pvt. William Weintraub of 136 High st., Newburyport, squadron clerk, who in life's normal course would be teaching high school kids the broader refinements of life. (He is an A.B. from Northeastern. His dad, Samuel, runs Weintraub's Bakery.) Such things as that!

NORMANDY!
Tabulating vital front-line statistics

Around the world —a glorious war record!

AT GOOSE BAY, LABRADOR, a Wac helps speed a B-24 on its way to Berlin . . .

Behind the lines in Italy, a Wac flashes a message from General Clark to the storm center of battle.

"Somewhere" in New Guinea, a Wac speeds mail to the men at the front.

In Normandy, India, Australia, Honolulu, England, North Africa, New Caledonia—Wacs are helping our fighting men hasten the hour of victory.

Working in highly skilled jobs that require nimble fingers, keen minds, steady nerves.

Keeping at the work of war with an inspired spirit. With a red-white-and-blue courage that will know no let-down until the fight is won . . .

Across the seas and around the world—they're making a glorious war record. The Wacs—gallant soldiers of the U. S. Army—the women all America is proud of.

Pupils to Open Paper Drive

More than 6000 schoolboy paper troopers will swing into action throughout Boston next week, following an organization meeting of leading educators Tuesday. Announcement that the youngsters would play an important role in salvage drives was made by Asst. Supt. of Schools Dennis C. Haley.

School principals from 22 wards, appointed administrators for their districts, will make plans for calling at the 197,000 homes in Boston to urge all householders to save their paper each month and place it on the curbs for monthly collections.

The papertroopers will start in action on Oct. 9, and will be picked from students in the sixth, seventh, eighth and ninth grades, according to plans made by Supt. of Schools Arthur L. Gould.

Tomorrow, 112 Marblehead Boy Scouts will aid in the waste paper collection in that town. Collections in Melrose, Marblehead, Watertown and Medford will also take place tomorrow.

The newly-arrived soldier from the States finds Alaska a land of friendly welcome. There as here he finds Coca-Cola. In Ketchikan, to say Have a "Coke" means Pal, we're right glad you're here, just as it does in your own home. The Cry Of The Tortured

ACTION!

By HOWARD FAST

Author of Citizen Tom Paine

Will there be no end to this? In the name of God, will no one lift a voice? In the name of Christianity, will no one speak? Are there no voices left? Are we without anger? Without shame? Without mercy? Or have the Nazi beasts infected us with their own virus, so that we lend no ear to the shrieks of pain and turn our nostrils from the stench of a blood-soaked earth?

We have no excuses now. Our mighty armies stand on the borders of Germany. We have a voice to speak with, and behind that voice is the might of a righteous cause; but where we might roar with anger and action, we whisper and dawdle.

May God forgive us, for humanity may never forgive us. Safe on the walls of our churches are pictures of the Christ child without number, but Christians stand silent while children by the thousands are led to the Nazi gas chambers. We have forgotten that He said: "Whosoever shall receive one of such children in my name, receiveth me . . ."

May God forgive us what we have forgotten! We hear that ten million Christians and Jews have been murdered by the Nazis, and we are unmoved. We see photographs of the gas chambers wherein hundreds of thousands perished, and we are unmoved. We see the disinterred, broken bodies, piled like mountains of sorrow, and we are unmoved. We see the lists of the raped, the ravished, the tortured, and we are unmoved. We see such evil as this world never knew or dreamed of, and we are unmoved.

We see the crematoriums, where the holy bodies of men, made in His image, were piled by the thousands and burned, and still we are unmoved. We stand face to face with the hordes of the Anti-Christ, creatures of such evil as this world never knew . . . and still we are unmoved.

May God forgive us, for then the dead may. Their eyes are closed, but their voices are not silent. They accuse us, the fat, the smug, the contented and contemptuous . . . and we will not silence their voices with our own silence.

In the name of Christ, let us speak! Let us try to save those who live! Let us speak in words of anger and wrath, in words of fire! Let us speak through our Government, our statesmen, our newspapers, our radio, our churches!

With purpose to match hate, and with justice to match injustice.

Let us speak in a voice the Nazis will hear though they crawl to their deepest burrows. Let us speak in words they will never forget. Let us redeem ourselves as human beings, so that we may remember, without too much shame, that He said:

"Whosoever shall give you a cup of water to drink in my name, because ye belong to Christ, verily I say unto you, he shall not lose his reward. And whosoever shall offend one of these little ones that believe in me, it were better for him that a millstone were hanged about his neck, and he were cast into the sea."

AS A HUMAN SERVICE

we urge you to write or wire your Congressman or your Senator to act now for a united effort on our part and on the part of our allies to save what people may still be saved in the satellite nations.

METHUSELAHS

EVERYBODY a Methuselah is the newest aim of science. Dr. Theodore G. Klumpp, a chemical company official, recently told a distinguished company of New Yorkers that it is "biologically possible for many of our children or our children's children to live in good health for 130 years."

This would be accomplished, he said, through the development of medicinal chemistry, which is only in its beginnings so far as ageing problems are concerned.

We are inclined to agree with Dr Klumpp. In our own lifetime we have seen the discovery of sulfa drugs, penicillin and numerous anti-toxins which have practically eliminated dozens of diseases which once killed thousands of children and adults.

Physicians are gradually coming out of their shell of rugged conservatism and overcoming maladies that would have been considered hopeless a generation ago.

Soon, it is generally believed, cures will be found for cancer and tuberculosis, the two worst enemies of the human race.

OPEN PAPER MILLS!

AN ANNOUNCEMENT that should inspire a monster waste paper drive in Boston has just come from Regional Salvage Manager John C. Kiley.

A big mill, which makes bomb rings, blood plasma cartons and V-boxes for the armed forces from wastepaper salvaged by the people of this area, had exactly five tons of paper on hand one day this week, only enough for a half-hour's production.

Another mill had supplies for a single day's work.

To permit a situation like this to continue will deprive our fighting sons of urgently needed materials at a time when their very lives depend on those materials.

Every Bostonian, Bay Stater and New Englander should spend at least an hour salvaging waste paper in his home or place of employment during the week-end.

ROSH HASHANA

TOMORROW at sundown Jews throughout the world will observe their solemn Rosh Hashana and usher in the year 5705.

With the faith that has distinguished and blessed the Jewish people from time immemorial, the Rabbinical Association of Greater Boston has published this hopeful prayer:

"May the coming year mark the end of all our suffering. May it bring peace and a renewed sense of brotherhood throughout the world. May we all pray for the day when all men will sow and reap together, standing side by side with equal dignity, in mutual faith, and in common adoration of the one God."

More persons than Jews should repeat that petition. It ought to be the everyday supplication of all men and women who believe in honesty and justice.

BENET'S FORTUNE

Persons who imagined that modern bards lived in bare attics and appeased their hunger with crusts of bread will probably change their minds now.

A man has to be an exceptional banker, merchant or contractor to acquire and hold an estate of $121,721 in these days of soaring expenses and skyrocketing taxes.

Moreover, Poet Benet is additionally compensated for his literary efforts.

Legacies of the successful man of business or commerce are frequently dissipated by their not-always-prudent heirs.

But Benet will live with his verses and, in them, find immortality.

Well peace to thy heart

THOMAS MOORE

AM informed by a member of our armed forces that the gal he left behind is about to marry another man. The soldier, a regular fellow, wants to congratulate the young woman on her marriage and asks for a poem to enclose in his letter. I hope the above will be satisfactory . . . Recently I stated George Washington imported the first mule in the United States. A Westerner questions this. He says Washington "invented" the mule by clever breeding. He bred a mare to a jackass. Incidentally, in trying to check on this argument, I was attracted by the following excerpt from a brief biography of our first President: "Washington was a man of powerful physique, 6 feet 2 inches in height with sandy hair, blue eyes and big hands and feet. He weighed 210 pounds. He was not a prohibitionist and was a horseback rider, a hunter and a fisherman. He attended horse shows and horse races, took part in card games, fox hunting and was a regular theatergoer. After his inaugural in New York, he was a first nighter at the John St. Playhouse."

LOVE, ETC.: "In the most perfect love," said Maurice Maeterlinck, "the happiness of the lovers will not be exactly the same. But they unon ever so close; to the better of the two needs must love with a love that is deeper; and the one who loves with a deeper love must surely be the happier."

Many mothers of an all-female family agree the scientists are right. However, our H. & W. Dept. experts have so far been unable to get a definite statement on this matter from the Eddie Cantors.

GET IT RIGHT. The only game the original Hoyle was an expert on was whist. His first name was Edmund and he died in 1769 at the age of 97. Players of bridge and pinochle nearly always live to a ripe old age. It is the poker and gin-rummy players who die young. Hoyle's only book was titled "A Short Treatise on the Game of Whist." This book inspired the saying, "according to Hoyle."

ALMOST CONFIDENTIAL: In Surrey, England, has been grown a peach weighing 80 ounces. That's a lot of peach. When we lived at Grand View on the Hudson we had some very large peaches growing in the backyard. However, I never weighed any of them.

Betty Grable

Note Mae West referred to as "The Dean of the Oomph Girls." Mae is a great comedienne but never has been an "oomph girl" like Betty Grable. Her male appeal is not great. Men laugh loudly at Mae's scintillating wisecracks but do not fall in love with her.

QUERIES FROM CLIENTS:
Q. As an Army sergeant now stationed in the world's worst climate at Panama in the Canal Zone, I would like to know what is the world's best climate. How do the women feel about lazy men in this place? Are there horses to ride? A. World's best climate can be found at Honolulu. Women there are very affectionate and tolerant and bring their husbands breakfast in bed. No horses to ride; only surf boards . . . Q. Isn't Simpsons on the Strand the best restaurant in London? A. I wouldn't say that. There are several restaurants in London that are better. I like Simpson's in Cheapside better than Simpson's on the Strand.

FIGHTER: A hen is a peaceful animal but can put up a terrific battle in defense of her young. In England, a stout one of the fiercest of wild animals entered a hen coop with a view to consuming a few young chickens. A hen flew at the stoat, struck him in the back of the neck with her bill and killed him instantly.

WASHINGTON SCENE

By GEORGE DIXON

Distributed by King Features Synd., Inc. Reproduction Prohibited

WASHINGTON, Sept. 16.—Rep. J. William Fulbright, of Arkansas, is so certain he will be elected Senator in November that he visited the Senate the other day to look over his prospective new surroundings.

Young Mr. Fulbright is the 39-year-old bright boy who leaped from obscurity a few months ago by introducing the now-famous Fulbright resolution. It won the support of both Houses because it was so nebulous no one could muster any real arguments against it.

The resolution, which was about as contentious as coming out in favor of rain during a Kansas drouth, advocated the setting up of international machinery after the war "to maintain a just and lasting peace."

It seems Mr. Fulbright feels peace would be a good thing to have after the war. I do not know how he conceived such a wonderful idea except that he must be naturally brilliant.

Anyway, he came around to the Senate and announced he would soon be calling it home because the voters down in Arkansas could not possibly ditch him. Those in touch with the situation agreed he was probably right, because he has the Democratic nomination, and Arkansas is unlikely to go so eccentric as to elect a Republican.

Among the upper chamberites he introduced himself to was Sen. Carl A. Hatch of New Mexico. Senator Hatch pretended great surprise.

"Do you mean you are an actual living man?" gasped Hatch. "I though you were just a revolution."

IN RECOGNITION of the great powers that have been bestowed upon Sidney Hillman of the CIO Political Action Committee I have just written this beautiful lyric poem:

People of one stripe, or kidney
Must clear everything with Sidney.

IN EXPLAINING why he put his wife on the public payroll at $1500 a year, Democratic Vice Presidential Candidate Harry S. Truman said:

"Even for a small family, with entertainment held to a minimum, it is hard to live in Washington on a Senator's salary of $10,000 a year."

Of course, you can always make a little extra waiting on tables at night.

IVAN BURDICK, head of food rationing at OPA, has just sent a letter to all his field representatives imploring them not to heed instructions that the main office here in Washington is being run entirely by dopes.

Mr. Burdick, whom, I am afraid, is a very sarcastic man, began his letter as follows:

"There is a persistent rumor here in Washington that there is a factory in Tennessee that is working night and day turning out front ends of horses which are then shipped to Washington for final assembly."

THE REPUBLICAN National Committee was almost on the point of inserting a "lost" ad for Chairman Herbert J. Brownell, Jr., the other day. He was missing for nearly seven hours.

Mr. Brownell was due here at 5:14 a.m. to address the National Press Club at noon. Lee Chesley, head of the Washington publicity staff, went to the airport to meet him, taking a bunch of Republican Congressmen along.

Brownell didn't arrive. Chesley called Pittsburgh, where the big boss was supposed to have been, but couldn't locate him. Finally Brownell phoned shortly after noon. He reported he was grounded in Cincinnati.

"And don't ask me how I got to Cincinnati," said Brownell. "I've been trying every way I know to get to Washington."

To make up for Brownell's absence, the Republicans tossed a load of talent at the Press Club two Senators and two Representatives. Speeches were made by Senate Minority Leader Wallace H. White, Jr., of Maine; House Minority Leader Joe Martin, of Massachusetts; Senator Ferguson, of Michigan, and Representative Charles A. Halleck, of Indiana.

"You got four for the price of one," Joe Martin reminded the assemblage.

WHEN THE hurricane seemed to be threatening Washington, one of the newspapers assigned a young lady reporter to call up the Weather Bureau at half-hour intervals. She kept getting reports on wind velocity and direction.

"The gale is blowing North Northwest," she was told. Later she was informed it had shifted to West Northwest. She talked to the same party each time. About midnight he said: "The wind seems to have steadied. It is now almost due Northwest."

"Thank you," said the reportress. "By the way, to whom am I speaking?"

"Oh," said the weatherman, "this is Mr. Northwest!"

He wasn't kidding. He was Kenneth Northwest, senior forecaster.

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 16—I felt sure it would only be a question of time before the story of Mother Cabrini, who devoted her life to underprivileged children, would reach the screen. There is as much drama and interest in the way she built up homes throughout the United States (preventatoriums for the spiritual and physical upbringing of children) as there is in Fr. Flanagan's great work.

Bing Crosby

Well, the second picture to be made by the Bing Crosby Production Co. is to be "The Life of Mother Cabrini." While Bing has been overseas, his partners, James Grant and Frank Mastroly, have completed their research on the biography of this saintly woman, who is to be canonized by the Catholic Church.

WHEN ERNIE PYLE was here he devoted a whole column to William Wellman, the director. Billy really had sensational experiences in World War I, in which he served as a flier with Quentin Roosevelt, the late son of Theodore Roosevelt. He was badly injured and won all sorts of decorations. Now Bill is going to direct "G. I. Joe" for Lester Cowan, which is the story of Ernie Pyle.

PUTTING JOHN PAYNE in "Waltz Me Around Again, Willie" was a little premature, since he hadn't even read the script. John is going to move very carefully as he knows just how important it is for his first picture to re-establish him. He's been away from the screen two years. A little bird has whispered he goes into "State Fair" with Alice Faye. Many of Alice's best pictures, and John's, too, were together, and it looks very much now as if Alice will leave Phil and the babies long enough to make the picture.

THERE AIN'T no truth in the rumor Bob Hope has reneged on doing a bit in "Duffy's Tavern." It was whispered loudly that Bob, who had agreed to play a small part with Bing Crosby, had asked to be relieved on account of he had so many other things on tap. Bob has gone to Toronto on a War Bond drive, but, according to Louis Shurr, his representative, he'll keep his promise.

A TELEGRAM from Betty Hutton saying she is not going to make any pictures for a while. "I am going overseas," writes the blonde bomber, "and I have had all my shots." She comes back to Hollywood for a short time before she leaves.

SNAPSHOTS OF HOLLYWOOD: Joy Ann Page denies any wedding plans and says the rumor she is marrying Lt. Bill Orr is untrue; Eddie Bracken has bought a $50,000 house with an orange grove; the Olivia De Havilland-Mal. John Huston romance has ended by mutual consent; Jean Porter, M-G-M starlet, and her soldier husband are divorcing; Hollywood was shocked over the sudden death of Johnny McMullin, who had many friends. He left Paris with Lady Mendl and Hilda West, her secretary, when the Germans marched in; Pat Morrison, who has been away for months, is back in Hollywood; Len Weissman photographer for Fawcett Publications, is the father of a nine pound girl. His wife is the former Vicki Lynn.

Boston After Dark

THE "WEED" or "tea" (as its addicts called marijuana) is responsible for a recent startling race-track story . . . A young and prominent jockey was forbidden to ride for the balance of a race-track meeting because he is alleged to have demanded that a marijuana cigarette be produced for him before he accepted his mount in an important race . . . The episode has inspired a variety of sensational stories (most of them miles away from the truth), and is still the talk of the oval where it took place.

The marijuana cigarette was supposed to have been procured, and to have been passed to the jockey while he was astride his mount on the way to the starting gate . . . Witnesses said that they saw what they thought was "a piece of white paper" passed to the boy . . . The friend and associate alleged to have produced the "weed" was also banned by the track stewards.

THE JOCKEY gave the horse he rode marvellous handling, and the stretch ride was thrilling in the extreme . . . But the horse was beaten a nose, after "coming again" in the stretch, by the favorite. The fault in the story's continuity, by the reckoning of this department, is the lack of witnesses to the actual smoking of the narcotic cigarette by the jockey . . . Certainly it would have been an intriguing spectacle that of a jockey calmly puffing on a cigarette (narcotic or not) while riding to the barrier on his horse . . . But the saying goes "that anything can happen on a race track" . . . Maybe the horse smoked the butt!

IN ONE CASE at least, experience gained while working in a Boston night club has been turned to excellent effect in the war . . . Sgt. Mario Di Scullo of Boston has just been made the subject of a press release from the Eighth Air Force, England . . . Duly passed by SHAEF'S field press censor, the story says that Sgt. Di Scullo at 24, as supervisor of all the enlisted men's mess halls at one of the largest aerial repair depots in England . . . The sergeant got his experience as assistant steward at the Latin Quarter . . . He is a graduate of Everett High and has two years of service, including nine months in the European Theater of Operations.

Drohan, who, in the habiliments of a captain is entertaining the troops in England as a WSO headliner . . . If it's the "best job" the effervescent Mr. Drohan "ever had," the task of entertaining the troops carries a lot of pleasure . . . Benny and his wife, Marty Du Pree, made a fortune as owners and stars of their own tabloid musicals after World War I.

THE MAYFAIR'S first "Theatrical Guest Night" of the season met so fine a response that Mickey Redstone will resume the night club's earlier policy of weekly Tuesday nights for visiting actors and entertainers . . . AN ADVANCE SHOWING of the Greater Boston United War Fund campaign poster and movie will be held at the Statler Wednesday afternoon . . . IF TODAY IS YOUR BIRTHDAY You are eager, willing, smart, very capable. Especially like and suited to, work involving children, artistry. Many noted writers, public speakers, politicians, actors and religious born under Virgo. You can do clerical and statistical work ably. Overcome worry, faultfinding. Sometimes sarcasm. Choose associates carefully, you won't be happy with those less intelligent or who do not have the high moral standard you innately have. Birthdate of Frances Parkman, American historian.

Capture Wins War Bond

A reward of $500 in War Bonds will be given by the management of Loew's State and Orpheum Theaters for the "capture" of George Heisler, "fugitive," from 5 p. m. Monday to 5 p. m. Tuesday.

The double and stand-in for Spencer Tracy, who plays the Gestapo-stalked George Heisler in Metro's breath-stopping drama, "The Seventh Cross," now showing on Loew's twin screens, arrives in Boston on Monday. Within the time designated, he will pass seven strategic spots, each spot designated by a poster marked with a crimson cross. If you recognize him and give him the password: "You are George Heisler, the seventh cross awaits you," the award is yours.

Fifteen cents more brings you the Marian Martin fall and winter pattern book full of smart, easy-to-make style. A free bedjacket pattern is printed right in the book.

JVA Leads in Milkweed Pod Collection

Milkweed pods for servicemen's lifejackets are so vitally needed that an appeal has been issued by War Production Board spokesmen to all Massachusetts school children to gather the pods, now in their mature stage. Junior Victory Army youngsters, always the first to answer a patriotic appeal are leading the state-wide campaign.

Bags and instructions for gathering the pods are available at the office of the superintendent of schools in every Massachusetts community.

Patches of milkweed can be found in vacant lots, along roads and railroad sidings, and along alleyways, as well as in the weedier spots of yards and gardens.

Junior Victory Army workers who are entering the drive should snap open the pods. If the seeds are brown, the pods are ready to pick, and should be harvested by pulling them up out of the ground. Then they should be put in mesh bags and let dry. In most towns and cities, the superintendents of schools are designating central depots where the harvested pods may be left.

Milkweed floss is a substitute for kapok, which was obtained from districts now under Japanese domination. Until we regain this source of supply, milkweed will have to be used.

To join the JVA, send your name, age and full address to Junior Victory Army, Box 238, Boston. If, in addition to enlistment, you want the JVA insignia pin and membership card, enclose a 10-cent coin, well wrapped in your letter.

Read the next JVA story in Sunday's Advertiser.

25,000 See 'Special' At Gansett Today

By JACK CONWAY

WITH A CLASS field of horses, the $25,000 Narragansett Special today was expected to be one of the outstanding handicap races of the year. The distance of one mile and three-sixteenths will furnish a real test for the big field.

The Greentree stable entry of Devil Diver and Famous Victory had plenty of early backing. There was also much support for Alex Barth, Bounders, Texas Sandman, Goober Lad, Some Chance, Coronal and the other crack horses who are expected to be at the barrier when Starter Buddy Wingfield gets the field under way.

Buddy Wingfield

It is believed that by post time the track will be in good condition. The warm sun of yesterday, plus the efforts of a score of workmen, did much to get the track into condition. If the weather remains fair until post time, there should not be any out about the track.

President James E. Dooley planned to entertain racing notables from all parts of the country. Many of the owners of the horses in the Narragansett Special have come to New England for the race.

It is believed that 25,000 persons will witness the race and that the mutuel handle will soar close to $1,250,000.

The cream of the jockeys will be up on the horses in the Narragansett Special. Some of the riders have come in from New York for the classic.

Following today's races, there will be two more weeks before the Narragansett meeting closes. The thoroughbreds will then head north to Rockingham Park, which opens on Oct. 2. There will be seven weeks of racing at Lou Smith's track.

Will Aid Charities

PRESIDENT DOOLEY, Chairman of the Board Charles Connors and the directors of Narragansett Park will hold two charity days before the meeting ends. There were three days of charity racing at the opening of the spring meeting. As a result, Narragansett Park will maintain its high standard of aiding worthy charities.

New England racing will raise $750,000 for charities this year. This figure includes contributions expected from horse and dog tracks.

Suffolk Downs has already given $248,000 to charities, while Russ Murray's Raynham dog track contributed $47,000 to the Disabled Veterans' Fund of the American-Record-Sunday Advertiser. Wonderland Park is now staging 16 nights of charity racing which are expected to raise the record amount of $500,000.

The Dighton dog track donated $50,000 to charities, while Rockingham Park will later stage charity racing days.

It will not be necessary for New England race tracks to offer excuses to returning servicemen for failure to aid the war effort. Racing has gone all out for war charities.

EDDIE CARROLL'S Great Barrington Fair will open next Monday. There will be six days of racing.

Racing Secretary Jimmy Pacarillo says he will have more than 200 horses on the grounds and that he will stage eight races each day. Great Barrington holds the mutuel record for the Massachusetts Fairs with a mark of more than $500,000 established last fall.

The Great Barrington Fair will open with a Sunday horse show. The horse show has attracted the entries of the best show horses in the Berkshires. Many horses have been entered from New York State as well as from Connecticut.

Gerrazzi Rejoins Holy Cross Squad

WORCESTER, Sept. 16 (AP)—Veteran Elgin Gerrazzi, who has been idle with a fractured wrist for several weeks, rejoined the Holy Cross football squad yesterday.

Manpower Now Licking Red Sox

By JOE CASHMAN

WASHINGTON, Sept. 16—Joe Cronin naturally is upset over the loss of last night's game but as he prepares for another moonlight melee with the lowly Senators this evening his chief concern is an alarming shortage of physically fit operators.

Pete Fox is on the hospital list again. Leon Culberson, idle for several weeks with a bad knee shows little signs of improvement.

With these two fly-chasers beside comfat, the club has just three outfielders.

And there is but one spare infielder around, if you except Skipper Joe. Also just one spare catcher. Last night's game provided two situations which, in Cronin's opinion, called for the insertion of a pinch hitter.

He nominated himself to bat for Clem Dreisewerd in the sixth.

Came the ninth. Trailing by four runs entering the frame, the Bees put over a run and had runners on second and third with one out when it came time for "Red" Barrett to bat.

And Cronin found himself with nobody but Roy Partee to put up to swing for the pitcher.

It had to be Roy, who more than once this season has been billed for a hitter, or else a left-handed batter against Mickey "Lefty" Haefner, who was on the Solons' slab.

There's nothing Cronin can do about his manpower shortage at this late date. He must go along and do the best he can until Fox and Culberson return to relieve the pressure.

Pete, according to the doctors, should be ready for the Cleveland series, starting next Tuesday. He may even be ready for the final game here tomorrow.

The veteran right fielder, on the shelf with a lame back for a week before returning to the line-up for the Yankee series, aggravated the old injury in lifting a bag on the train on the trip down here.

He couldn't stand up straight yesterday morning but seemed greatly improved after a treatment by an osteopath.

And, when it was all over, the Hose were 3½ games out of first place.

Cronin is calling on Mike Ryba to even the series count in the second game. The Nats will rely on Dutch (Knuckler) Leonard.

Pelicans Buy 3 Players From Royals

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 16 (AP)—Charlie Hurth, general manager of the New Orleans Pelicans, announced today purchase from Montreal of three players for next year's roster.

They are: Two pitchers, Lester McCrabb, right-hander, who was formerly with the Philadelphia Athletics, and Rey Dale Sanner, left-hander with the Pels in 1943, and Jean Paul Mermeau, who played centerfield with the Pelicans the latter half of the season.

Pick Great Lakes To Beat Army Eleven

GREAT LAKES, Ill., Sept. 16 (INS)—Twenty-five thousand servicemen gathered in Ross Field at the Great Lakes Naval Training Station today to see the Bluejackets open their 1944 football season against the Fort Sheridan Comets.

The Great Lakes team, considered one of the strongest in the nation, was expected to walk away with the soldier eleven.

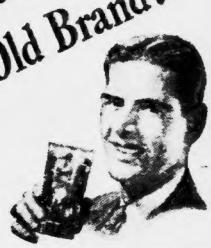
WHAT A WHISKEY! It has a rich, full flavor! Fine body! Superb aroma! Yes—it's a lightsome leather . . . smooth as silk . . . mixes like a million! Your first sip will tell you—here's the whiskey you've been waiting for!

WANTED! by Fleischmann's Good Judges of Good Whiskey to try a Fine Old Brand!



Wouldn't You Like to Serve a Whiskey that has the Full, Ripe Richness of the World's Finest, Most Limited Brands? If you would, now you can! Read why!

A MAGNIFICENT WHISKEY! Fleischmann's PREFERRED has everything you could ask for—the rich, full taste . . . the fine body . . . the delicious aroma of the most treasured brands!

RICH AS GOLD! And—it's super-smooth! In all your life you've never met up with such a combination of round, full, ripe taste . . . fine body . . . delicate aroma.

THIS invitation is written for the few men who are really good judges of good whiskey . . . who can appreciate a whiskey that is as gloriously rich, creamy and delicious as the world's finest, most limited brands—and who do not need anything more to confirm them in their judgment.

We set out several years ago to see if we could make such a whiskey. We spared no expense. We experimented. We drew from the world's choicest reserves. We selected the finest grains, and backed them up with the world's most delicate skill.

The result is—Fleischmann's PREFERRED, one of the world's most remarkable whiskies. Velvety! Creamy! Full! Delicious! We can offer Fleischmann's PREFERRED only in limited amounts, because our facilities have been devoted to the war effort . . . but if your dealer has Fleischmann's PREFERRED, try it! You'll always be glad you did!

Clever Fred O'Brien Quits as E. B. Coach

By MIKE GILLOOLY

While schools throughout greater Boston were busily pushing ahead plans for their opening games of the season, Fred L. O'Brien, second oldest coach in years of service in the Boston school system, quietly left the local sports scene in handing in his resignation to Physical Director Joe McKenney.

O'Brien's duties as coach of sports for the Noddle Islanders, will be taken over by Bernie Kilroy and Bill McCarthy, teachers in Boston schools.

O'Brien, the only non-teacher coach in Boston schoolboy ranks, first started doubling up as probation officer and sports mentor in 1908 when the school system found him jumping from one squad to another throughout the city. In 1918, he took over officially at East Boston and he's been turning out first-class representatives in football, baseball, hockey and track.

He's had many great triumphs at East Boston. In 1919, Coach O'Brien turned out one of the highest scoring football teams in schoolboy history with Ralph Colson and Bill Nolan running all over local gridirons and opposition. That team was possibly the greatest in his years of masterminding.

His parade of stars is endless. He tutored the Hoffman brothers before they moved on to Harvard; the brilliant Ralph Colson; the McKenzie brothers; the Fielding brothers; Joe Santarpio of Fordham fame; Glynn Fraser now Boy Scout head, and Ben Gambino of Boston College; Red Irwin of the Fittons; Julius Rutsky of Bates; Lenny Merullo of the present Chicago Cubs; Joe Callahan of Athletics and Braves fame; Guy Vitale, one of the greatest of schoolboy athletes, and Joe Zito a popular All-Scholastic back.

One of his pupils, a crack hurdler was Capt. Joe Fielding of the U. S. Army, who won the Distinguished Service Cross for outstanding achievement in the African campaign. He was reportedly the second American to step on African soil in that struggle.

O'Brien's successor, Kilroy, was center on Joe McKenney's undefeated Boston College team of 1928, graduating the following June. Since that time, Kilroy has coached at St. Mary's of Brookline and at Natick High for five years. Kilroy will coach only football, leaving track, hockey and baseball to McCarthy.

Coach Charlie McCormick will be sending his Lowell High School squad into action for the first time, officially, tomorrow afternoon against Salem at Bertram Field in the home of the Witches . . . this tilt, and the St. Patrick's of Stoneham vs. Central Catholic, will complete the week-end card.

Zanelli, Welch Bout O. K.'d

Ralph Zanelli of Providence, R. I., will be reinstated by the Massachusetts boxing commission today and will meet Coley Welch of Portland, Me., for the New England middleweight championship over the title distance of 12 rounds at the Boston Garden next Friday evening.

The Boxing Commission here notified matchmaker Rip Valenti of the Goodwin A. C. that Zanelli would be reinstated here if his managers post a $500 forefeit with the Pennsylvania commission guaranteeing that Zanelli would go through with a bout with Billy Arnold of Philadelphia, Oct. 9.

Last night Johnny Buckley, manager of Zanelli, forwarded a check for $500 to Leon Rains, Pennsylvania commissioner, to guarantee Zanelli meeting Arnold on Oct. 9 and this will make it

Friday's Stars

By the Associated Press

VERN STEPHENS, Browns—Drove in two runs with 18th homer and single as St. Louis trimmed Chicago, 5-1.

STEVE GROMEK, Indians, and HAL NEWHOUSER, Tigers—Gromek outpitched Dizzy Trout and scored winning run in 12th inning of 4-3 opening victory; Newhouser coasted to 25th victory behind Detroit's 19-hit attack for easy 9-1 rout of Cleveland in finale.

MICKEY HAEFNER, Senators—Held hard-hitting Boston club to seven hits in stopping Red Sox drive, 5-2.

BUCKY WALTERS, Reds—Became first National League pitcher to cop 21 wins by shading Pittsburgh in 10 innings, 5-3.

TED WILKS, Cards—Stopped St. Louis losing streak at five after Mort Cooper dropped first game to Chicago, 2-1. Wilks boosted win record to 16-3 by eight-hit second game triumph on 3-2 score.

Tigers Fail in Pinch

By Associated Press

Detroit has muffed a chance to take control of the American League pennant race and sat idly by today as the St. Louis Browns got their chance to nip at the heels of the front-running Yankees.

While Dizzy Trout was losing his second straight and the Tigers were splitting a doubleheader with Cleveland, the Brownies thumped Chicago to pull into a second-place tie with the Bengals. They were one-half game back of Joe McCarthy's men, who end a five-day "vacation" by entertaining Philadelphia today.

Trout's 12-inning loss to Cleveland's Steve Gromek, 4-3, set tongues wagging with the "I told you so's," harping on the season-long theme of overwork, but the "fired" Mr. Right of the Detroit staff could point to 24 victories and 313 innings on the hill as proof of his consistent effectiveness with only two weeks to go.

Myril Hoag's double, scoring Gromek in the 12th, downed Trout.

HAL AIDS TIGERS

Hal Newhouser earned the Tigers a split by turning back the Indians with eight hits and striking out nine for a 9-1 "convincer" as Detroit slugged out 19 safeties, five by the veteran Doc Cramer. The southpaw sensation had allowed only one run in his last 29 innings and reeled off five straight victories to hit No. 25.

Denny Galehouse hurled the Brownies to a 5-1 decision over the Chicago White Sox with the help of Vern Stephens' 18th homer. Jimmy Dyke's club lost a run in the first when Eddie Carnett batted out of order and never showed the form that enabled them to knock off St. Louis last weekend.

Boston dropped 3½ games off the pace in a hard-to-take walloping by last place Washington, 5-2. Joe Cronin led with rookie Clem Dreisewerd, who yielded all Washington runs before bowing to Red Barnett. Mickey Haefner shackled the hard hitting Red Sox with seven blows and stopped George Metkovich's consecutive game hitting streak at 25.

Over the week-end Detroit plays two at Cleveland, New York three at home with Philadelphia, Boston two at Washington, and St. Louis three at Sportsman's Park with Chicago.

SANDERS HITS MARK

Cincinnati took first blood in the National's second-place scrap with Pittsburgh by eking out a 5-3 edge in 10 innings over reliefer Xavier Rescigno. The Pirates' margin on the third-place Reds was cut to 4½ games.

Ray Sanders hit the 100 R.B.I. mark as St. Louis split a pair with Chicago, losing 2-1, but bouncing back 3-2 as Ted Wilks earned his 16th victory.

New York finished a "suspended" game for an 8-3 win over the Phillies but bowed to Ken Raffensberger in the regular scheduled tilt, 7-3, and remained tied with the Cubs for fourth. A Brooklyn at Boston game was postponed because the players were stranded in Connecticut due to the hurricane that delayed trains in New England.

Phil Celebrates In Big Fashion

CHICAGO, Sept. 16 (AP)—Phil Cavarretta, who was 17 when he started his major league baseball career with the Chicago Cubs, celebrated his 10th anniversary with the team yesterday—and had a good day at bat and afield.

In a doubleheader with St. Louis, the Cubs first baseman got four hits, drove in the winning run in one game, stole one base and made an unassisted double play. Between games Cavarretta and Bill Nicholson were presented watches as awards for winning a popularity contest among Cub fans.

NATIONAL LEAGUE FIELD, Sept. 16—In the first game of a double-header this afternoon at Braves Field the Dodgers nosed out the Braves, 5 to 4, before a small gathering of fans.

Al Gregg started for the Dodgers and after holding the Braves to two hits for five innings lost control and after he had passed four men and the Braves were within one run of tieing the game he was removed and Art Herring took over the mound duty.

Nate Andrews was nicked for nine hits in six innings but the defeat was charged against Woody Rich who twirled the last three rounds.

Dixie Walker connected with his 13th home run of the year in the third with two aboard and Tommy Holmes hit his tenth homer with two on in the sixth. So six of the nine runs was the result of homers.

The Braves tied the count in the seventh and but for some stupid base running by Rich might have gone out in front and remained there.

The Dodgers put over what proved to be the deciding run in the eighth. Wietelmann was charged with an error when his throw pulled Macon off first and gave Basinski, first batter, a life. Herring laid down a sacrifice and then Eddie Miksis broke up the ball game with a double off the leftfield wall.

Barrett and Zachary were the batteries for the nightcap.

Crimson In Lead

By MURRAY KRAMER

HARVARD STADIUM, Sept. 16—Some 10,000 sun drenched fans greeted the 1944 opening of the collegiate grid season here today as Harvard and Tufts swung into action.

This was the second meeting between the two local colleges in many years—they renewed relationships last fall and Tufts wound up a 13 to 7 victor.

Going into today's game, the Jumbo was favored to repeat thanks to a likely looking squad of naval V-12 students. And speaking of the Navy, the Middies from both schools and their bands put on a colorful pre-game drill. The V-12 and the R.O.T.C. units from Harvard and Tufts covered the entire stadium gridiron as the colors were raised to officially open the Stadium.

FIRST PERIOD

The underdog Harvard eleven wasted very little time moving into scoring position. Jenkins, a Naval transfer from Tufts, took Griffin's kickoff on his own ten, came up through the middle into the clear but he broke stride evading the safety man and was hauled down from behind on the Tufts' 43 after going 47 yards.

Jenkins drove through for four and a Navin to Perkins pitch gave Harvard a first dow on the 29. Garrity then swung right on a false reverse winding up on the 18. Mr. Jenkins then went legging to the left on a reverse and traveled the needed distance without a Jumbo hand touching him. Strout's placement attempt was low and wide.

Score—Harvard 6, Tufts 0.

The Medford lads made their first offensive gesture after an exchange of kicks. Taking the ball on their own 29, the Jumbos picked up a first down when two spins by Cowan up the middle netted 11.

Unable to advance any farther, Cowan got a sweet boot that was grounded on the Harvard 20.

Harvard went no where in a hurry and Trumbull kicked back to the Jumbo 44. Kearns went 10 on a reverse but Feldman lost that yardage on the next play when he was snowed under trying to pass.

Feldman more than made up for the lapse by hitting Rohrs with a perfect strike to give the Jumbo a first down on the Crimson 31. Feldman faded back and fired to Kearns who took it on the 15, kicked his way out of the hands of the Harvard safety and raced the remaining 15 to tie the score. Cowan's placement was wide.

Score—Harvard 6, Tufts 6.

Jenkins ran Cowan's kickoff back to his own 27 as the period ended.

Mrs. Rogers Hits Delay in War

LONDON, Sept. 16 (AP)—Rep. Edith Nourse Rogers, Massachusetts Republican and foreign affairs committee member, said today information she had received in London and Washington led her to believe the war against Germany "could be pushed forward much more quickly." She said she was starting an investigation of what she termed a delay "to see if its cause is political."

"There should be no politics in war," she said in an interview.

"I don't think delay is caused by supply problems. But if it really is supply, then there is no excuse for it."

The problem of policing Germany after victory probably would keep American troops "over here quite a while," she said, advocating that soldiers now here be replaced by those newly-inducted.

Rep. Rogers, author of WAC legislation, said the feminine contingent of the army was doing splndid work overseas.
